

AMERICAN FIRST ARMY SMASHES INTO GERMAN LINE WEST OF ST. LO; EXTEND THE AREA OF THEIR ATTACK

Attack Extended and Yanks Advance Over Wide Front
for Distances Up To 3,000 Yards — Second Army Fights Off Bitter German Counter-Attacks, Some Supported by Tanks.

By Kingsburg Smith
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Supreme Headquarters, Allied
Expeditionary Force, July 26—
(INS)—American First Army armored and infantry forces, smashing
into the German line west of St.
Lo in Normandy, extended the area
of their attack today after crossing the St. Lo-Periers road at several points.

An official spokesman said that the attack by the Americans was continuing and had been extended this morning after headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reported that the Yanks had advanced over a wide front for distances up to 3,000 yards, or approximately a mile and three-quarters.

"In the area west of St. Lo," the regular morning communique said,
"Allied troops advanced up to 2,000 yards on a wide front and crossed the Periers road at a number of places."

The British 2nd Army which launched a drive south of Caen, on the eastern battle sector, just before the Americans attacked, at noon yesterday, fought off bitter German counter-attacks, some of which were supported by tanks.

"Our initial gains were held,"
said the communique in reference to the grueling clashes below Caen.

Fierce fighting continued in the area of the towns of May-Sur-Orne, Verriers and Tilly La Cam-pagne.

The headquarters spokesman said that although the British were maintaining their attack no all-out tank battles had yet developed.

The situation around May-Sur-
Orne, he said, was "fluid."

Doylestown Area Is Suffering From Drought

DOYLESTOWN, July 26—If you don't think Doylestown and vicinity are dry, take a glimpse at the official reading of the rainfall figures for the month of July so far.

Official Observer George Hart
announced yesterday that this area up until noon yesterday had but 17/100 of an inch of rainfall since July 1. The last rain of any importance or value in this community fell on June 24.

As a result, crops in this community are in bad shape. Victory gardeners—many of them—have thrown up the sponge. Unless there is rain, and a lot of it, soon, this productive territory will have an all-time low production in fruit and vegetables.

The potato crop on the National Farm School farms has been hard hit, and the fruit will be smaller than usual if rain does not come soon, Dean W. O. Strong, of Farm School, said yesterday. The corn crop too, has been very much retarded in central Bucks county.

STRICKEN ON STREET

Stricken ill on Farragut avenue
was enroute to his McKinley street home, yesterday noon, Frank Bradley was removed to Harriman Hospital. Mr. Bradley, who either fainted or was affected by the heat,
was also treated for brush burns
of the face and hands.

Pa. Salt Mfg. Co. Plant Is Toured by Rotarians

Bensalem Rotary Club members met last evening in King Hall, Andalusia, with the president, Jacob Scheufele, in charge.

Birthday anniversaries of Phillip
Mack and L. Creighton Vandegrift, which occur this month, were celebrated, when a large cake was cut.

One visitor was present, namely,
Carl Rutledge, of Cornwells Heights.
Mr. Rutledge is chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., Edgington.

After the meeting, members were escorted to the Pa. Salt Co.'s plant and there divided into two groups.
One group was led by Mr. Rutledge, and one led by Rittner Tomlinson, also an official of the firm,
and the men were shown about the plant.

Starting with crude sulphur, the process of manufacturing sulphuric acid was explained. Its use in production of hydrofluoric acid was told of. Hydrofluoric acid is one of the final products sent out of the Edgington plant. It is used in the petroleum industry. Some hydrofluoric acid is used also at the Edgington plant, after being weakened, to manufacture aluminum fluoride, which is important in aluminum manufacture.

In 1854 the Penna. Salt Co. started making table salt, but since then has greatly expanded. Now it manufactures many products in its many plants, and very little salt.

The tour of the plant proved both interesting and educational to the Rotarians.

Red Cross Sends Men Here To Cover Unroofed Houses

The ten brick houses on Pine street which were unroofed by the storm Monday night, are to be re-roofed just as soon as materials and labor can be secured, say the owners.

The Red Cross Disaster Committee, of which Chauncey Stoneback, Jr., is chairman, surveyed the situation yesterday and decided that additional and more secure protection was required for the interiors
and the contents of the ten properties. It was also desired to release the tarpaulins of the fire department.

Mr. Stoneback communicated with the Red Cross headquarters in Philadelphia, and late yesterday afternoon a truck loaded with huge tarpaulins and a crew of men was dispatched to Bristol.

Upon the arrival of the truck
here, firemen of the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department and Goodwill Hose Co., No. 3, aided and assisted in placing the Red Cross tarpaulins over the roofs. All of the roofs are now very well protected, and the Bristol firemen who had placed their tarpaulins over the houses for the emergency, now have these back, should occasion arise for other emergency use.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

YOUNG SOLDIER HAS 13 'JAPS' TO CREDIT

Sellersville Youth Killed 1
With Knife, 12
With Rifle

NOTCHES TELL STORY

SELLERSVILLE, July 26—The youngest Sellersville soldier serving in the Pacific area, Pvt. Robert Kennedy, is carrying a rifle on which he has cut 12 notches, one for every "Jap" he has killed in action, and in addition to the notches on the rifle, he has cut one on his hunting knife to indicate he used the knife in killing another Jap.

Writing to a friend here the past week, Kennedy, who is 18 years old,
reported to date he has killed 13
Japs, 12 with his rifle and another with his knife.

The letter contained a description of a hand-to-hand fight Kennedy had with one of the "Japs."
Walking toward the body of a "Jap," killed a short time before, Kennedy discovered another "Jap" sneaking up behind him.

Kennedy turned on the would-be-killer, and a hand-to-hand fight followed. The "Jap" used one hand to fight, and with the other he was attempting to pull the pin from an American hand grenade which he had tied to his belt. Kennedy pulled out his "bowie" knife, and killed the "Jap" with seven thrusts into his chest.

Word has been received also from PFC Wilson H. Yerk, son of Mr.
and Mrs. William Yerk, Perkaste.
Pvt. Yerk, it has been learned, is a member of the medical detachment of the Third General Hospital that recently was assigned to set up and operate a hospital to care solely for the French wounded after the break through the vaunted Gustave and Hitler lines.

Yerk is with the peninsular base section in Italy. After spending a long time in North Africa, where he cared for the American wounded, his hospital unit was called upon to care for the French when the offensive broke the long stalemate before Cassino.

RULE BY MEN AND VS. RULE BY LAW

Doylestown Intelligencer, July 25, 1944

The history of free government in general may be said to be the rise of rule by law in place of rule by men.

The first governments mankind knew were rule by men—usually the strongest men. It was government by force. Watch chickens in a barnyard, and you get the idea.
The rooster who is the best fighter is the rooster who is boss. When a rising young cockerel gets big enough to lick him, then there's a new boss.

If chickens had more brains, they might be able to go on to the second stage, where it was not just the strongest individual, but the one with the strongest gang to help him, who became ruler. This still was government by force. The gang on top got the gravy; they had all the rights, and the others had to follow orders or else—they had no rights at all. Under that sort of government, it was just as well for the words "rights" and "fights" to rhyme, because rights were whatever one could successfully fight for.

A good many things were wrong with that sort of government. Of course it was popular only with those in control. It lacked any permanence—a man never knew from minute to minute how soon some new gang would lick the old one, and if that happened who might turn out to be boss. For another, peace and order and justice obviously called for some protection even to the losers of the fights, and certainly to those who just stood on the sidelines.

People found many ways, through the years, to cut down the power of the line of rulers who started out as gang leaders and evolved into kings, monarchs, dictators
and the like. The kings of course clung to the power;
when they had no better argument, they insisted that it was God who had helped them become king—that they ruled by "divine right."

Even today many countries have kept the ancient plan of having kings. Great Britain is an example. But the kings of today, under what is known as limited monarchy, are mere shadows of the kings of the past. They no longer are rulers in any sense. Popular and influential among their people as some of these kings have been, in most cases their office is important only as a flag or a great seal is important. The king is the rallying point around which the real government gathers, and he makes the real government official.

More than two thousand years ago someone invented
a new theory which was the most important single step ever taken in the direction of good government. The Romans get the credit, if not for the original idea, at least for being the first to try seriously to carry it out.

The new theory was that government should be based,
not on men, but on written law.

A law, set down in understandable words and made to apply to all alike, has a strength and an appeal which even the best of kings cannot equal. This is particularly discussed for the club's active work at several service centres in Trenton. Mrs. Thomas Purcell,

Cut Those Weeds!

(By "The Stroller")
The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, called "the most flagrant offender" so far as not cutting the weeds on its various properties in Bristol, has gotten busy, and yesterday a gang of men started the job.

The co-operation of the P. R.
R. is to be commended, and sets an example for some of our property owners, who as yet have not made a move, to obey
the ordinance.

There are a lot of vacant lots
in Bristol on which the weeds
are almost as tall as the average individual, but there is no evidence that it is the intention of the owners to cut them.

July 1st was the dead-line.
No matter how obscure or how prominent, the weeds on these lots should be cut, and cut at once.

Let's all co-operate and do this one job as it should be done.

Buys Bond With Returns From A Victory Garden

Although the 5th War Loan Drive
is on the wain, Harry Robinson's enthusiasm for bond sales is not.
Harry is the Newport Terrace lad
who won the American Legion war bond medal recently. Yesterday he arrived at the home of Mrs.
Walter H. Gillette, Newport chairman for the drive, with $18.75 in cash gleaned from the sales of his victory vegetable garden and said:

"This is the way I like to save my money and even when the drive
closes at the end of the month I am going to keep on buying bonds."

Bensalem workers are still on the job, getting last minute bond sales.
The Walt Disney certificates still being the favorite method of achieving sales. Recent recipients of these are: Nancy Sue Lewis, Carl
F. Perene, Jr., George J. Knauth,

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Two More Attempts Made to Land on Guam

London—Two more landing attempts were carried out by the Americans today on the island of Guam, according to a Tokyo dispatch reported by the Nazi agency DNB.

The enemy dispatch said fierce fighting was in progress on Guam near Apra. Positions for the most part still are in Japanese hands, it was claimed, but the dispatch asserted that increased landings were being met by violent counter-attacks.

The Japanese, it was claimed, sank one landing boat and set fire to another. Eleven amphibious tanks were sunk and a transport of 10,000 tons was damaged heavily, the unsubstantiated enemy reports said.

Combined Naval Bombardment and Aerial Raid Starts

London—A combined naval bombardment and aerial assault against the Jap-held island base of Sabang, off the northwestern tip of the Netherlands East Indies island of Sumatra, and raids by carrier-based Allied planes on the Palau Islands and Yap, westernmost of the Carolinas, were reported by Tokyo.

The attack on the harbor of Sabang by an Allied task force of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, supported by aircraft, was reported in a Japanese High Command communique.

The Jap Danes agency reported the aerial assaults on the Palau Islands, some 450 miles east of the Philippines and on Yap. Planes from several aircraft carriers swept in against the island targets yesterday.

Canadian Troops Withdraw As Germans Counter-Attack

With the Canadians in Normandy—A heavy German counter-attack during the night on Tilly La Campagne resulted in Canadian troops withdrawing to an orchard on the northern outskirts of the town where fighting is now going on.

The Germans attacked with armor and infantry, backed by a curtain of mortar fire. In the face of this fierce pressure troops from Eastern Canada fought well, making the Germans pay dearly for every mound of rubble in Tilly.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1944
SHRAPNEL
One of the oldest terms applied to munitions of war is shrapnel. For two hundred years a shell which hurled missiles in all directions when it exploded had been used. A German invented one in 1573. Others improved it, but it was not until 1803 that Colonel Shrapnel, an officer in the British army, perfected the shell, in spite of a lack of interest by the British crown. He spent thousands of pounds of his own funds, for which he was never repaid.

Many difficulties were encountered in Shrapnel's early experiments. Gunpowder was of poor quality in those days. Fuses often were ineffective, resulting in many duds. But the ambitious British soldier met and overcame every obstacle and lived to see his weapon in general use.

After working on the shell for 28 years, Shrapnel reminded the British board of ordnance it was indebted to him in a considerable sum. The board granted him a pension of 1,200 pounds a year. This failed to satisfy him, and gaining the ear of King William VI, he agreed to settle for a title. This was promised, but his majesty died before putting it through.

Queen Victoria, who followed to the throne, never heard of Shrapnel. With nothing to show for his labors except that his invention bore his name, Colonel Shrapnel died at the advanced age of 81, unhonored and unsung.

WHERE GASOLINE GOES
How much gasoline Hitler has is undisclosed. Probably his available supply is less than 10 per cent of American output. And America is not having an easy time making supplies meet essential demands.

So hard pressed are high test gasoline makers supplying aviation fuel that petroleum has been diverted from synthetic rubber making to 100-octane gasoline production. Before Pearl Harbor the nation's highest gasoline output was 24,000 barrels a day. For months it has been 400,000 barrels a day, and now it is approximately 500,000 barrels a day. Even greater output is needed.

Civilians, as a result, will get a poorer grade of motor fuel. A B-29 Superfortress consumes as much gasoline in an hour as an "A" ration holder gets in five and one-half years. With more Superfortresses taking to the air constantly, it is easy to see where the gasoline is going.

But if America has difficulty fueling its military effort, it is difficult to understand how Germany, deprived of most of her sources of petroleum, and with her synthetic plants under almost constant bombardment, can produce more than a trickle of gasoline.

Another pest is the chap who looks up words like "wolfram" and goes around telling everybody what it means.

Ancient Greeks transmitted messages by means of light signals. That was before they had words for them.

ELWOOD BUCK, Hulmeville, Pa.

Mr. Bob Hannegan, in which he gave Mr. Wallace one of the feeblest recommendations ever written—a recommendation which left his friends deeply disappointed and which his foes regarded as throwing him to the wolves. It said, in effect, that if he (Mr. Roosevelt) were a delegate he would vote for Mr. Wallace as a personal friend, but that he did not want to dictate to the convention, which, of course, would use its own judgment and discretion. Clearly, he could not have said less, and when the way in which he dictated every other detail of the convention, including the wording of the platform, is considered, it is impossible to believe that he really wanted Mr. Wallace nominated when he wrote that letter.

FACT No. 4—Nevertheless, Mr. Wallace made the best of this miserable little pat on the back and with his CIO backing, continued his fight on the assumption that the President wanted him, though there was not a thought so in the convention who thought so. However, so strong was he among the delegates and so powerful the CIO support that unquestionably he would have been nominated had Mr. Roosevelt kept hands off and just stood on that letter. Fact No. 5—But, Mr. Roosevelt did not keep hands off. Through Mr. Hannegan and others he put himself really back of Senator Truman and against Mr. Wallace. He did more than that—he wrote a public letter to Senator Jackson in which he expressed approval of Senator Truman's candidacy, declared he would be acceptable to him and that he would add strength to the ticket.

THIS back from Mr. Wallace a blow in the truck from which he never rallied. It gave the Truman forces firm ground for saying that the President did not favor Wallace and did favor Truman. How many others the President directly communicated with on this matter is not known, but it is a fact that at the caucus of the New York delegation his intimate friend, Mr. Eddie Flynn, declared to the delegates that "The President wants Truman." And that is what his other friend, Mayor Kelly, told the Illinois delegation, too. Well, that is the record. These facts cannot be disputed. What they add up to is a plain double cross. Beyond a doubt Mr. Wallace would have been re-nominated but for the active opposition of Mr. Roosevelt, exerted through his agents. And also beyond a doubt, Mr. Roosevelt ditched Mr. Wallace because he feared he might handicap him in his fourth-term attempt. As to the CIO, it did not get its first choice but it did get its second. Before his name went before the convention Senator Truman broke fast with Mr. Hillman and got from that gentleman assurances that next to Wallace he was his choice.

IT IS an ugly story, but it is a true one and every informed person who attended the convention knows it. In view of his treatment it is proper to ask why Mr. Wallace should now heartily support the man who so ruthlessly discarded him. There are several reasons—one, because Mr. Roosevelt's eulogy of Mr. Roosevelt on the night of his nomination was so earnest and extravagant as to make it impossible for him to do anything else; second, because Mr. Wallace genuinely believes in the policies and principles for which he thinks Mr. Roosevelt stands; third, because Mr. Wallace is an incurable political sap. At any rate, no man in politics has been given shabbier treatment with less reason in a long time. It makes Mr. Willkie's grievances against the Republican party seem pale and puny, indeed.

Every day I will bless Thee; and I will praise Thy Name for ever and ever.

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to these grand new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ters. Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

FLEETWINGS MAKES SEVEN RUNS IN THE LAST FRAME OF TILT

Aircraft Builders Trailing With Score 7 to 0 When Inning Opened

DOUGHERTY BEGAN IT

Heisler Did Hurling For The Arrows and Put On Pressure

TRENTON, N. J., July 26—Scoring seven runs in the final inning, the Fleetwings team tied the league-leading Prison Officers last evening before a large crowd on Weitzel field.

Going into that last frame, the Wingers were trailing, 7-0. Dougherty started things with a double and then Calderone, Elvert, and Ludwig got singles. Holcomb drew a pass and D'Ascendis singled. The rally seemed over when both Heisler and DeRisi went out but Leone kept the ball rolling with a hit. Up for the second time, Dougherty again hit safely but Calderone went out to end the frame.

Lonny Heisler did the hurling for the Arrows while Rusnak and Burkley pitched for the guards. The league-leader tried to start something in their half of the inning when both Sabo and Burkley hit singles with one down but Heisler put on the pressure and fanned both Tanzone and Barnhart to end the game.

Elvert, new shortstopper for the Arrows, and Barney Ludwig led the hitters with three hits each while Lefty Ott had a triple and a single to top the Prison Officers.

ROHM & HAAS GIRLS WIN SOFTBALL HONORS

The Rohm and Haas girls won the softball championship of the Industrial League by triumphing over the Fleetwings girls, 18-3, on the latter's field. The chemical mixers won both halves of the circuit.

Ruth Bacher pitched for the winners and after the second inning blanked the airplane workers while her mates continued to add runs to their total, climaxing with seven runs in the fifth. Theresa Gallagher led the Maple Beach team in run scoring with four while both B. McLean and Stella Klemczak had three each. Others in the Rohm and Haas line-up included: A. Bacher, McHugh, Sampson, Betty Bacher, Walterick, Roberts and Ennis. The Fleetwings line-up consisted of Swinehart, Chapman, Hughes, Bracey, Roberts, Salustio, Marazzo, Lucas, Wong, Welker and Chewing.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE GAMES SCHEDULED

Two Trenton Industrial League tilts will be played in this section this evening. On the Maple Beach diamond, the Rohm and Haas girls will be host to the Prison Officers team while at Edgely, the Voltz-Texaco contingent will clash with the American Steel nine. Both games will begin at 6.15 o'clock.

Grimes Pitches for Gasmen and Holds 'Badies' to Seven Hits

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, July 26—Paul Dean was invincible in the pinches here last evening as the Badenhausen nine topped the Voltz-Texaco team, 4-3, in a Bristol Suburban League tilt.

Two runs in the sixth frame did the trick for the Baddies, the tally being scored on hits by Paul Bowman, Hibbs and Samsel.

Art Grimes did the pitching for the gasoleers and held the winners to seven hits but his mates failed to hit in the pinches, having but one good inning, the fifth, in which all the runs were scored, thanks to a long triple by Barney Lyczak. Bowman, continued his hitting streak for Badenhausen by getting a double and single.	ab	r	h	o	a	e

Rule By Men and vs. Rule By Law

true if the people to whom the law applies have some say in writing it in the first place, or making changes in it.

The new idea changed mankind's whole concept of the possibilities of government. Previously government was regarded as something to be endured, like a boil; but of which the ordinary citizen could never be expected to be very fond. Written law opened up the possibility of governments which would be more than just necessary evils—which could help and protect the common people, not merely those who happened to be in the ruling classes.

Down in South Philadelphia, Edward R. Jones hung up quite a record as a Meter Reader for P.E. Now, as Motor Machinist's Mate, third class, U. S. Navy, Ed's eagle eye is scanning the sea to spot trouble threatening his submarine in dangerous Jap waters.

Ed has been in Uncle Sam's submarine service since 1942. Following a course in the Navy's submarine and Diesel engine school at New London, Conn., he joined the undersea fleet in the South Pacific.

During war patrols along Jap supply lines, Ed's sub has sunk eight enemy ships and seriously damaged nine others. Several times, including one depth bomb attack by enemy aircraft, they have escaped death by narrow margins.

Home on leave recently, Ed's uniform was brightened by a Navy submarine combat pin, with three stars, and submarine insignia.

AMERICAN FIRST ARMY SMASHES INTO GERMAN LINE WEST OF ST. LO; EXTEND THE AREA OF THEIR ATTACK

Attack Extended and Yanks Advance Over Wide Front for Distances Up To 3,000 Yards — Second Army Fights Off Bitter German Counter - Attacks, Some Supported by Tanks.

By Kingsburg Smith
1. N. S. Staff Correspondent.
Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 26—(INS)—American First Army armored and infantry forces, smashing into the German line west of St. Lo in Normandy, extended the area of their attack today after crossing the St. Lo-Periers road at several points.

An official spokesman said that the attack by the Americans was continuing and had been extended this morning after head quarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reported that the Yanks had advanced over a wide front for distances up to 3,000 yards, or approximately a mile and three-quarters.

"In the area west of St. Lo," the regular morning communique said, "Allied troops advanced up to 3,000 yards on a wide front and crossed the Periers road at a number of places."

The British 2nd Army which launched a drive south of Caen, on the eastern battle sector, just before the Americans attacked at noon yesterday, fought off bitter German counter-attacks, some of which were supported by tanks.

"Our initial gains were held," said the communique in reference to the gruelling clashes below Caen.

Fierce fighting continued in the area of the towns of May-Sur-Orne, Verriers and Tilly La Campagne.

The headquarters spokesman said that although the British were maintaining their attack no all-out tank battles had yet developed.

The situation around May-Sur-Orne, he said, was "fluid."

Doylestown Area Is Suffering From Drought

DOYLESTOWN, July 26—If you don't think Doylestown and vicinity are dry, take a glimpse at the official reading of the rainfall figures for the month of July so far.

Official Observer George Hart announced yesterday that this area up until noon yesterday had but 17/100 of an inch of rainfall since July 1. The last rain of any importance or value in this community fell on June 24.

As a result, crops in this community are in bad shape. Victory gardeners—many of them—have thrown up the sponge. Unless there is rain, and a lot of it, soon, this productive territory will have an all-time low production in fruit and vegetables.

The potato crop on the National Farm School farms has been hard hit, and the fruit will be smaller than usual if rain does not come soon. Dean W. O. Strong, of Farm School, said yesterday. The corn crop too, has been very much retarded in central Bucks county.

STRICKEN ON STREET

Stricken ill on Farragut avenue as he was enroute to his McKinley street home, yesterday noon, Frank Bradley was removed to Harriman Hospital. Mr. Bradley, who either fainted or was affected by the heat, was also treated for brush burns of the face and hands.

Pa. Salt Mfg. Co. Plant Is Toured by Rotarians

Bensalem Rotary Club members met last evening in King Hall, Andalusia, with the president, Jacob Schenkele, in charge.

Birthday anniversaries of Phillip Mack and L. Creighton Vandegrift, which occur this month, were celebrated, when a large cake was cut.

One visitor was present, namely, Carl Rutledge, of Cornwall Heights. Mr. Rutledge is chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., Edlington.

After the meeting, members were escorted to the Pa. Salt Co.'s plant and there divided into two groups. One group was led by Mr. Rutledge, and one led by Rittner Tomlinson, also an official of the firm, and the men were shown about the plant.

Starting with crude sulphur, the process of manufacturing sulphuric acid was explained. Its use in production of hydrofluoric acid is one of the final products sent out of the Edlington plant. It is used in the petroleum industry. Some hydrofluoric acid is used also at the Edlington plant, after being weakened, to manufacture aluminum fluoride, which is important in aluminum manufacture.

In 1954 the Penna. Salt Co. started making table salt, but since then has greatly expanded. Now it manufactures many products in its many plants, and very little salt.

The tour of the plant proved both interesting and educational to the Rotarians.

Red Cross Sends Men Here To Cover Unroofed Houses

The ten brick houses on Pine street which were unroofed by the storm Monday night, are to be re-roofed just as soon as materials and labor can be secured, say the owners.

The Red Cross Disaster Committee, of which Chauncey Stoneback, Jr., is chairman, surveyed the situation yesterday and decided that additional and more secure protection was required for the interiors and the contents of the ten properties. It was also desired to release the tarpaulins of the fire department.

Mr. Stoneback communicated with the Red Cross headquarters in Philadelphia, and late yesterday afternoon a truck loaded with huge tarpaulins and a crew of men was dispatched to Bristol.

Upon the arrival of the truck here, firemen of the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department and Goodwill Hose Co., No. 3, aided and assisted in placing the Red Cross tarpaulins over the roofs. All of the roofs are now very well protected, and the Bristol firemen who had placed their tarpaulins over the houses for the emergency, now have these back, should occasion arise for other emergency use.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Double Cross
Washington, July 25. THE speech succeeding Mr. Roosevelt's nomination made by Mr. Wallace on the night before the Democratic convention ended and the strange letter which Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Mr. Hannegan concerning Mr. Wallace just before the convention began, were well designed to confuse the public mind. So misleading has been the post-convention publicity about these things that what actually happened seems likely to be obscured so far as the people generally are concerned. And that would be unfortunate, as the facts should be clearly understood. The truth is that the defeat of Mr. Wallace was the result of as calculated a piece of political treachery as has occurred in our history.

Summer "Round-Up" Is Sponsored at Yardley

YARDLEY, July 26—A summer "round-up" is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Yardley, this being a physical aid to pre-school children, helping them to be in condition to start school.

The committee in charge plans a canvass of the borough.

All children who will enter first grade in the fall, or who will be six years old before Feb. 1, 1945, are privileged to be checked.

The check-up will be conducted at the school on August 2nd at nine a. m., with Dr. R. J. Howell making the examinations, and on August 3, at two p. m., with Dr. H. L. Bassett examining.

The committee consists of Mrs. Leedom, chairman; Mrs. Agnes Pugh, Mrs. Joseph Longstreet and Mrs. Malcolm Carver. Mrs. LeRoy Hackett, nurse, will assist in the check-up.

YOUNG SOLDIER HAS 13 'JAPS' TO CREDIT

Sellersville Youth Killed 1 With Knife, 12 With Rifle

NOTCHES TELL STORY

SELLERSVILLE, July 26—The youngest Sellersville soldier serving in the Pacific area, Pvt. Robert Kennedy, is carrying a rifle on which he has cut 12 notches, one for every "Jap" he has killed in action, and in addition to the notches on the rifle, he has cut one on his hunting knife to indicate he used the knife in killing another Jap.

Writing to a friend here the past week, Kennedy, who is 18 years old, reported to date he has killed 13 Japs, 12 with his rifle and another with his knife.

The letter contained a description of a hand-to-hand fight Kennedy had with one of the "Japs." Walking toward the body of a "Jap" killed a short time before, Kennedy discovered another "Jap" sneaking up behind him.

Kennedy turned on the would-be-killer, and a hand-to-hand fight followed. The "Jap" used one hand to fight, and with the other he was attempting to pull the pin from an American hand grenade which he had tied to his belt. Kennedy pulled out his "bowie" knife, and killed the "Jap" with seven thrusts into his chest.

Word has been received also from PFC Wilson H. Yerik, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Yerik, Perkassie, P. V. Yerik, it has been learned, is a member of the medical detachment of the Third General Hospital that recently was assigned to set up and operate a hospital to care solely for the French wounded after the break through the vaunted Gustave and Hitler lines.

Yerik is with the peninsular base section in Italy. After spending a long time in North Africa, where he cared for the American wounded, his hospital unit was called upon to care for the French when the offensive broke the long stalemate before Cassino.

RULE BY MEN AND VS RULE BY LAW

Doylestown Intelligencer, July 25, 1944

The history of free government in general may be said to be the rise of rule by law in place of rule by men.

The first governments mankind knew were rule by men—usually the strongest men. It was government by force. Watch chickens in a barnyard, and you get the idea. The rooster who is the best fighter is the rooster who is boss. When a rising young cockerel gets big enough to lick him, then there's a new boss.

If chickens had more brains, they might be able to go on to the second stage, where it was not just the strongest individual, but the one with the strongest gang to help him, who became ruler. This still was government by force. The gang on top got the gravy; they had all the rights, and the others had to follow orders or else—they had no rights at all. Under that sort of government it was just as well for the words "rights" and "fights" to rhyme, because rights were whatever one could successfully fight for.

A good many things were wrong with that sort of government. Of course it was popular only with those in control. It lacked any permanence—a man never knew from minute to minute how soon some new gang would lick the old one, and if that happened who might turn out to be boss. For another, peace and order and justice obviously called for some protection even to the losers of the fights, and certainly to those who just stood on the sidelines.

People found many ways, through the years, to cut down the power of the line of rulers who started out as gang leaders and evolved into kings, monarchs, dictators and the like. The kings of course clung to the power; when they had no better argument, they insisted that it was God who had helped them become king—that they ruled by "divine right."

Even today many countries have kept the ancient plan of having kings. Great Britain is an example. But the kings of today, under what is known as limited monarchy, are mere shadows of the kings of the past. They no longer are rulers in any sense. Popular and influential among their people as some of these kings have been, in most cases their office is important only as a flag or a great seal is important. The king is the rallying point around which the real government gathers, and he makes the real government official.

More than two thousand years ago someone invented a new theory which was the most important single step ever taken in the direction of good government. The Romans get the credit, if not for the original idea, at least for being the first to try seriously to carry it out.

The new theory was that government should be based, not on men, but on written law.

A law, set down in understandable words and made to apply to all alike, has a strength and an appeal which even the best of kings cannot equal. This is particularly

MOTHERS OF MEN IN SERVICE HOLD PICNIC

All-Day Meeting and Social Time Held at Morrisville Residence

MANY WERE PRESENT

MORRISVILLE, July 26—The Mothers of Men in Service held a picnic with their business meeting at an all-day session held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Robert Margerum, of Hillcrest avenue.

Reports were heard, and plans discussed for the club's active work at several service centres in Trenton. Mrs. Thomas Purcell, chairman of the bond drive committee, reported that during the two days the mothers were at the bond booth, the amount of $2,874 was sold, with the following workers: Mrs. Ellen Kane, Mrs. Eleanor Gandeman, Mrs. Edward Parsons, Mrs. Earl Marsh, Mrs. Thomas Purcell, Mrs. William McAuley, Mrs. William Gilton and Mrs. Robert Chase.

Cut Those Weeds!

(By "The Stroller")
The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, called "the most flagrant offender" so far as not cutting the weeds on its various properties in Bristol, has gotten busy, and yesterday a gang of men started the job.

The co-operation of the P. R. R. is to be commended, and sets an example for some of our property owners, who as yet have not made a move, to obey the ordinance.

There are a lot of vacant lots in Bristol on which the weeds are almost as tall as the average individual, but there is no evidence that it is the intention of the owners to cut them.

July 1st was the dead-line. No matter how obscure or how prominent, the weeds on these lots should be cut, and cut at once.

Let's all co-operate and do this one job as it should be done.

HUNTER EMILIE PLANT RECEIVES HIGH HONOR

TO HAVE CEREMONY

Official announcement was made Monday in Washington by James D. Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, that the Army and Navy have conferred upon the Emilie Plant of the Hunter Manufacturing Corporation, here, the Army-Navy "E" award for outstanding production of war materials.

The Emilie Plant receives this highest honor that the Armed Forces of the United States can give to any industry as a result of excellence in the production of 20 m.m. ammunition for the United States Navy.

The Emilie Plant commenced production almost nine months after Pearl Harbor and rapidly became one of the outstanding producers of this Navy ammunition in the United States.

Suitable ceremonies to honor the award will be held at the Emilie Plant in the near future.

To buy, to sell, or to exchange—the classified column of the Courier will bring the desired results.

Buy Bond With Returns From A Victory Garden

Although the 5th War Loan Drive is on the wane, Harry Robinson's enthusiasm for bond sales is not. Harry is the Newport Terrace lad who won the American Legion war bond medal recently. Yesterday he arrived at the home of Mrs. Walter H. Gillette, Newport chairman for the drive, with $18.75 in cash gleaned from the sales of his victory vegetable garden and said: "This is the way I like to save my money and even when the drive closes at the end of the month I am going to keep on buying bonds."

Bensalem workers are still on the job, getting last minute bond sales, the Walt Disney certificates still being the favorite method of achieving sales. Recent recipients of these are: Nancy Sue Lewis, Carl P. Perone, Jr., George J. Knauth, Jr., Paul Keating, Jr., Dorothy Susan Fries, Judith Ann McLaughlin and Barbara Wandel.

After reviewing the Scouts in the work they had done in the past week they had charge of the presentation of the badges at the ceremonial ground at Camp.

Features of the past week are: L. D. Haag of the United States Department of Agriculture on the Conservation and Erosion of the soil; also Trooper Gibbins of the Penna. State Police, who give weekly instruction in Firearm Safety and Marksmanship, to those qualified.

The program of Camp fires, night games, advancement, commando, adventure, and nature trails, Scoutcraft tests and merit badges give the Scouts of Bucks County an excellent summer of real Scouting. This week's Senior leaders in charge of Troops in Camp are Chester Foulke, of Quakertown; Harry Silvers, of Milford; and William Eryckberg, and Brother Charles of St. Francis School of Edlington.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Two More Attempts Made to Land on Guam

London—Two more landing attempts were carried out by the Americans today on the island of Guam, according to a Tokyo dispatch reported by the Nazi agency DNB.

The enemy dispatch said fierce fighting was in progress on Guam near Apra. Positions for the most part still are in Japanese hands, it was claimed, but the dispatch asserted that increased landings were being met by violent counter-attacks.

The Japanese, it was claimed, sank one landing boat and set fire to another. Eleven amphibious tanks were sunk and a transport of 10,000 tons was damaged heavily, the unsubstantiated enemy reports said.

Combined Naval Bombardment and Aerial Raid Starts

London—A combined naval bombardment and aerial assault against the Jap-held island base of Sabang, off the northwestern tip of the Netherlands East Indies island of Sumatra, and raids by carrier-based Allied planes on the Palau Islands and Yap, westernmost of the Carolinas, were reported by Tokyo.

The attack on the harbor of Sabang by an Allied task force of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, supported by aircraft, was reported in a Japanese High Command communique.

The Jap Domei agency reported the aerial assaults on the Palau Islands, some 450 miles east of the Philippines and on Yap. Planes from several aircraft carriers swept in against the island targets yesterday.

Canadian Troops Withdraw As Germans Counter-Attack

With the Canadians in Normandy—A heavy German counter-attack during the night on Tilly La Campagne resulted in Canadian troops withdrawing to a new position on the northern outskirts of the town where fighting is now going on.

The Germans attacked with armor and infantry, backed by a curtain of mortar fire. In the face of this fierce pressure troops from Eastern Canada fought well, making the Germans pay dearly for every mound of rubble in Tilly.

SECURE 419 PINTS OF BLOOD HERE IN A TWO-DAY PERIOD

Volunteer Workers From Bensalem and Bristol Areas Aid

FOR THE RED CROSS

Several Have Donated Blood For War Purposes Five or More Times

Two hundred and nine pints of blood secured at Harriman Hospital yesterday for the Red Cross, brought the two-day total during the visit of the Red Cross Mobile Blood Donors Unit here, to 419 pints.

The countless details necessitated by two such days of activity at Harriman Hospital were carried out smoothly, with Dr. Miriam Seaman and a corps of eight Red Cross nurses being aided in the work by local nurses, Bristol and Bensalem Red Cross nurses, Newportville Citizens Defense Association, Bensalem Motor Corps, and other volunteers.

One of yesterday's donors was Francis Crumb an 18-year-old navy man who arrived at the hospital without his parents' signatures, which is necessary where minors desire to donate blood. He hurried home and was back within an hour with the required signature. At midnight he left for his base in Virginia. Another navy man, who had been wounded in action, desired to donate, but was rejected pending final examination at the naval hospital. The final donor of the two days was the Rev. George Larwick, pastor of Cornwallis and Croydon Methodist churches.

Monday was designated as "Bristol Day" and yesterday as "Bensalem Day," but the workers from the two areas co-operated in allotting periods for each other's donors as required.

The following donated their fifth pint yesterday: Val DeSeamant, Clarence Moyer, Conway Keeny, Julia Katzman; sixth pint: Helen Dwyer, Eva Urbach; seventh pint: Elizabeth Benson, Anna Diamond, Harry Rosenberg; ninth pint: Lillian B. Tinsman, Edward Mollo, Dorothy Clifford.

Following is the complete list of those who gave blood yesterday:

Now I don't dread "That Time" of the Month

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to those grand new Chi-Ches-Ten Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ten contain an added iron factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ten Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

FLEETWINGS MAKES SEVEN RUNS IN THE LAST FRAME OF TILT

Aircraft Builders Trailing With Score 7 to 0 When Inning Opened

DOUGHERTY BEGAN IT

Heisler Did Hurling For The Arrows and Put On Pressure

TRENTON, N. J., July 26—Scoring seven runs in the final inning, the Fleetwings team tied the cage-leading Prison Officers last evening before a large crowd on Wetzel field.

Going into that last frame, the Wingers were trailing, 7-0. Dougherty started things with a double and then Calderone, Elvert, and Ludwig got singles. Holcomb drew a pass and D'Ascendis singled. The rally seemed over when both Heisler and DeRisi went out but Leone kept the ball rolling with a hit. Up for the second time, Dougherty again hit safely but Calderone went out to end the frame.

Lonny Heisler did the hurling for the Arrows while Rusnak and Burkley pitched for the guards. The league-leader tried to start something in their half of the inning when both Sabo and Burkley got singles with one down but Heisler put on the pressure and ranned both Tanzone and Barnhart to end the game.

Elvert, new shortstopper for the Arrows, and Barney Ludwig led the hitters with three hits each while Lefty Ott had a triple and a single to top the Prison Officers.

ROHM & HAAS GIRLS WIN SOFTBALL HONORS

The Rohm and Haas girls won the softball championship of the Industrial League by triumphing over the Fleetwings girls, 18-3, on the latter's field. The chemical mixers won both halves of the circuit.

Ruth Bachofer pitched for the winners and after the second inning blanked the airplane workers while her mates continued to add runs to their total, climaxing with seven runs in the fifth.

Theresa Gallagher led the Maple Beach team in run scoring with four while both B. McLean and Stella Klemczak had three each.

Others in the Rohm and Haas line-up included: A. Bachofer, McHugh, Sampson, Betty Bachofer, Walterick, Roberts and Ennis. The Fleetwings line-up consisted of Swinehart, Chapman, Hughes, Bracey, Roberts, Sallustio, Marazzo, Lucas, Wong, Welker and Chewing.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE GAMES SCHEDULED

Two Trenton Industrial League tilts will be played in this section this evening. On the Maple Beach diamond, the Rohm and Haas nine will be host to the Prison Officers team while at Edgely, the Voltz-Texaco contingent will clash with the American Steel nine. Both games will begin at 6.15 o'clock.

Grimes Pitches for Gasmen and Holds "Badies" to Seven Hits

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, July 26—Paul Dean was invincible in the pinches here last evening as the Badenhausen nine topped the Voltz-Texaco team, 4-3, in a Bristol Suburban League tilt.

Two runs in the sixth frame did the trick for the Baddies, the tallies being scored on hits by Paul Bowman, Hibbs and Samsel.

Art Grimes did the pitching for the gasoleers and held the winners to seven hits but his mates failed to hit in the pinches, having but one good inning, the fifth, in which all the runs were scored, thanks to a long triple by Barney Lyczak.

Bowman, continued his hitting

Rule By Men and vs. Rule By Law

true if the people to whom the law applies have some say in writing it in the first place, or making changes in it. The new idea changed mankind's whole concept of the possibilities of government. Previously government was regarded as something to be endured, like a boil; but of which the ordinary citizen could never be expected to be very fond. Written law opened up the possibility of governments which would be more than just necessary evils—which could help and protect the common people, not merely those who happened to be in the ruling classes.

His keen "meter-reader" eye helps sub to safety

Down in South Philadelphia, Edward R. Jones hangs up quite a record as a Meter Reader for P.E. Now, as Motor Machinist's Mate, third class, U. S. Navy, Ed's eagle eye is scanning the sea to spot trouble threatening his submarine in dangerous Jap waters.

Ed has been in Uncle Sam's submarine service since 1942. Following a course in the Navy's submarine and Diesel engine school at New London, Conn., he joined the undersea fleet in the South Pacific.

During war patrols along Jap supply lines, Ed's sub has sunk eight enemy ships and seriously damaged nine others. Several times, including one depth bomb attack by enemy aircraft, they have escaped death by narrow margins.

Home on leave recently, Ed's uniform was brightened by a Navy submarine combat pin, with three stars, and submarine insignia.
